NOTE: Of thirteen current United Nations peace-keeping operations, two are funded from the UN regular budget (UNTSO and UNMOGIP), one is funded through voluntary contributions (UNFICYP) and ten are financed from their own separate accounts on the basis of legally binding assessments on all Member States. Since the mandates of most forces are renewed periodically starting from different dates, annual cost estimates for comparative purposes are approximate. The figures provided for operational strength include military and civilian police personnel and vary slightly from month to month due to rotation.
